

OVERVIEW OF SURVEY RESEARCH IN NUTRITION

“Knowledge generated by research is the basis of sustainable development, which requires that knowledge be placed at the service of development, be converted into applications, and be shared to ensure widespread benefits,” -Mary-Louise Kearney, Director of the UNESCO

Forum on Higher Education, Research and Knowledge. Post graduate Department of Home Science- Food Science, Nutrition and Dietetics organized a virtual talk on gaining emphasize in Survey research on 15 th February 2021 virtually by Google meet. It virtual meet was held for one and a half hours of presentation along with Question and Answer session.

The virtual talk is being organized at a time where the post graduate students were in the advantages of research extend beyond graduation. The students critical thinking expertise, as well as effective analytical, research, and communication skills that are globally sought-after and incredibly beneficial. Ultimately, research is essential to economic and social development of our globalised society, forming the foundations governmental policies around the world. The talk is being organised at a time when all the researchers were involved in survey research due to coronavirus lockdown.

All faculty members and students of Homescience department participated virtually and the speech was delivered by the Chief Guest Mrs. S.A. Thamiloviya, Senior Research fellow, Department of Food Service Management and Dietetics, Avinashilingam Institute for Home Science, Coimbatore.

The Chief Guest highlighted on the extensive outreach of the wide range of e-learning tools related to survey research and also emphasized the topics like Designing the questionnaire, types of questionnaires , online surveys, validation of the questionnaire, how to implement Diet Survey and many diet related softwares. All the students and faculty members benefitted because of the virtual talk.