Objective:

On July 28, 8 students from PG department of Plant Biology and Plant Biotechnology visited The Zero Waste Carnival - Kuppai Thiruvizha Agurchand Manmull Jain College ,Meenambakkam. There were about 15 stalls. Find products ranging from palm tree derivatives to paper bags to kambas, bio enzymes and organic grocery were present in the stalls. Most interesting thing was the people who visit the stall were requested to to come prepared with their own bags, boxes and bottles for shopping.

Beneficiary outcome:

Many products were made out of banana fiber. Bags, baskets photo frames made of banana fibers were displayed. Some stalls had organic soap made from plant as the main ingredient. Organic honey without any synthetic substance was also displayed and they gave us some honey for tasting. From coconut shell accessories such as earring, ring and several customized designs are made from shell. Cups, toothbrush, etc. are made of woods kept for display .Fruit basket and decorative basket are wired using leaf of palm and coconut tree. Bio enzyme was also sold and it was stored in used plastic bottles.
